STEP III 2007 Question 10 — Examiner Report

This was the most popular of the Mechanics questions, but less so than any but question 6 of the Pure. Most managed to obtain the first two results correctly, but then struggled to find the further result. The deduction for the largest R was rarely spotted leading to some unnecessarily unwieldy calculus.